RSI opens regional hub and technical centre in Sheffield, UK

RSI is pleased to announce the further expansion of its European presence through the opening of its Sheffield Office. Headed up by James Tomlinson, General Manager EAME & APAC, the office will act as a regional hub as well as providing a full technical offering through an RSI WISE™ Technical Team.

Anthony Greer, RSI's Chief Operating Officer commented: "Being close to our customers is key to being able to effectively provide RSI's advanced multi-physics consultancy services. With the region's hub in Sheffield along with offices in Stavanger and London we are well placed to continue to improve our service and support to our European customers."
